From the Raleigh Register (Radical.) The Convention_The Standard,

We transfer to our columns an article from the Raleigh Standard, in reply to our Mr. Odom, of Northampton, for President own strictures upon the proceedings of the of the Convention, and expressed the opin-Convention. We are gratified to find in it ion that a native Unionist should be premost of the speakers in the Convention .-Let us take the following passage from the editorial, for instance, and compare it with as a Northern copperhead, as follows : Wilcox's division. the extracts which we append from the "While Northern copperheads, and I That paper asserts "Wilcox was not enspeeches:

"The same remarks apply to universal suffrage and disfanchisement, even in a stronger sense : for the reconstruction acts, which the Convention in the State of North Carolina who were and succeeded in keeping back two or more endorsed, are silent on the subject of confiscation, they expressly provide for both universal suffrage and relief from disfranchisement. To endorse these acts is, therefore, to endorse both these proresitions so far as the principles they contain are Union;" &c. And again : "There are gaged, and, without the hope of assistance, involved. Here we have the editor of the Standard committed unreservedly to universal suffrage and relief from disfranchisement. This was precisely what we desired and urged the Convention to declare. He also appears to think that the abandonment of confiscation is only a "question of time." This is progress in the right direction, and it may be hoped the editor will persevere in it. But we regret to say that such was not the spirit of the Convention, if we are to judge of it from the resounding applause which greeted such utterances as the follewing

Mr. A. H. Galloway, colored, of New Hanover, said he was "opposed to confiscation," but that he favored "taxation," and explained what he meant, as follows: "I want to see the man who owns one or two thousand acres of land taxed a dollar on the acre, and if he can't pay the taxes, sell their property to the highest bidderlet the Sheriff sell it, and then we negroes shall become landholders." (Applause.)-This speech was made before the unpalatable resolutions were offered, and seems to foreshadow a "policy" which is to be substituted for the "mild confiscation" of Thad. Stevens. When the anti-confiscation resolution was up for consideration, Mr. Mabson, colorel, of New Hanover, protested against its passage, as something that should be "Fellow-citizens, let me say to you here to-day, particularly to every representative of the colored people of this State, represent your people honestly. * * Now, in property of the people of the South is con-people will act honestly," &c., with the colored people, "the Congress of the United States should not confiscate their property. But as long as they take the advanremuneration," &c., then Congress will be "very certain to confiscate their property, and I do not care if they do." (Applause.) "It is the duty of every liberty-loving and law-abiding citizen to endeavor to put the lands of the South into cultivation, and the only way we can get them into cultivation, is by the Congress of the United States taking a decided stand, and make these men, that are owners of land come forward and either sell it to us or give it to us."-(Applause.) This Mr. Mabson is evidently a man of intelligence, and of decision and firmness. His speech gave tone to the deminds of a large majority of the colored

Mr. Coleman, of Cabarrus, white said: "This question of confiscation, gentlemen, is not a question of principle. (Applause.) It is barely a question of expediency, and what right have this Convention here today assembled to pledge the Republican party of North Carolina, to say that we are opposed to confiscation, when we don't know what may occur next week or next month? (Applause.) * I wish to say in making the remarks that I am making, do not commit myself on the question of confiscation, for or against it; but claiming to be a Republican, I am opposed to adding a plank to that platform that may sink it forever. Governor Holden said: "I subscribe to the sentiments which have been advanced by my young friend from Cabarrus. * I commit myself neither for nor against confiscation for the present. I stand here fairly and squarely by the nation, and upon the utterances of the glorious Congress of the United States." (Applause.) No one who heard the debate, and witnessed the applause with which the sentiments so threatening to the peace and salety of the whole property-holding white population, was received, could fail to draw the inference that an overwhelming majority of the Convention was in favor of confiscation. The remarks of Mr. Mabson, who seemed to be the ruling spirit, and Mr. Galloway, from the same county of New Hanover, are applicable to every man in the South who owned slaves or held property, and who cannot purge himself from the charge of having in any way given aid and comfort to the rebellion. Galloway would tax their lands at the rate of one dollar per acre, and Mr. Mabson would compel them to sell or give their lands to the colored people. Their remarks are of passions. course as applicable to those who were Union men, as to these who were rebels; for the slaves of the former will demand homesteads and education no less than of humble deference to the will of Congress, was to the rear of Fort Gregg, and higher been administered with only such limitathose of the latter. LUMBER-We can hear of nothing of consequence doing in this article, and ther fore report the market as ruling dull for all descriptions. The following are the quotations: Pine Steam Sawed Lumber-Cargo rates-per 1,000 feet. Ordinary assortment Cuba cargoes, $18 00 @ 20 00 Hayti cargoes, 17 00 @ 18 00 Full cargoes wide Boards. 20 00 @ 23 00 flooring boards, rough 00 00 @ 25 00 Ship Stuff as per specifications,.... 20 00 @ 23 00 nearly all descriptions, and only a small business doing. We refer to our table for store rates. POTATORS-Sweet are brought to market very freely, and sell from carts at $1 20@$1 30 B bushel. Irish are in small stock, but sufficient for present wants, and we quote as selling from store at $4 to $4 25 $8 bbl.

POULTRY-The market is rather poorly supplied and we quote as follows : Live chicke is 30 to 35 cents, and grown fowls 45@50 cents each. FROVISIONS .- In the Bacon market we have but little in the way of sales to report during the week. The stock of North Carolina has become pretty much worked off, in the absence of receipts, and there is none remaining unsold in first hands. There is a fair enquiry for jobbing lots, and parcels would find ready sale upon arrival. We quote nominally at 17 to 18 cents, and 20@21 cents for hams-latter figures for choice lots. For Western cured the market rules quite firm, and prices have an advancing tendency. There is some enquiry, and the stock on market is rather light .-We quote by the package from store at 15@16 cents for shoulders, and 18 to 19 cents & B. for sides, as in quality. ---- LARD. - Receipts of North Carolina have been meagre for several weeks, and the stock has become nearly worked off. quote at 17 to 181 cents & th. Northern is also in light supply at present, and sells from store at 14 to 161 cents & th. ---- Pork -- We have no change of consequence to report in the price of Northern, and the market is moderately supplied. See table for store quotations. SALT.—The market is heavily supplied and the demand is principally for small lots. The receipts for the week comprise about 4,400 sacks from Liverpool, and 3,000 do. from coastwise ports, but no sales of consequence have been reported. We refer to our table for quotations from wharf and

SHINGLES-Are coming to market slowly and are in fair request for building purposes. We quote by small boat loads at $3 50@$3 75 for Common, and $5@$7 & M. for Contract, as in quality. TIMER-Continues to arrive very slowly, and we note rather a better feeling in the market, though the demand for mill purposes is at present still limited. We quote sales of five rafts at $7@$8 for ordinary and $9 50@$10 for fair mill. Woon-Is brought to market sparingly, and is in moderate request. Sells by the boat load at FREIGHTS.-The market during the past week has ruled exceedingly dull to coastwise ports, and rates on naval stores have materially declined The large number of vessels that have arrived during the past two weeks renders it difficult to procure cargoes, and considerable detention is at present experienced, there not being sufficient produce offering for the vessels now in port. We refer to our table for rates now being paid.
